Information regarding using the Statistics Tutoring Center

- Students are best served by the Statistics Tutoring Center when they:
 1. Attend class regularly
 2. Make a serious attempt at their homework and then bring in specific questions
 3. Come to the center to focus on one or two concepts that they find difficult
- The Statistics Tutoring Center is NOT
 1. A substitute for attending class
 2. A place where you can expect to learn all of the material that will be covered on an upcoming test (Instead, you should visit the Tutoring Center as soon as you begin having difficulty and work in multiple visits as you encounter new concepts in class.)
- In an effort to help the most students possible, tutors may limit time spent with one individual to 20 minutes when other students are waiting.
- Be aware that our tutors are graduate students may need to leave as soon as their scheduled time is over to attend class and/or meetings.
- If you do visit the Tutoring Center, we would like your feedback. Please fill out a comment card and leave it in the comment box outside the Tutoring Center door.
